

HRC and SAGE Announce Partnership on First-Ever Assessment of Care Facilities Serving Older LGBTQ People

The Human Rights Campaign Foundation and SAGE are combining forces to execute an assessment of care facilities serving LGBT older adults. The LGBT Senior Housing and Care program has been working diligently for two and a half years to research and develop best practice in housing and care for LGBT seniors and their chosen and biological families.

“The assessment of how care facilities serve older adults of the LGBT community is a huge step forward in understanding the need and in instituting affirming and welcoming practice and protocols for LGBT seniors,” said LGBT Senior Housing and Care director Amy Simon. “What care communities need to know is the steps that they need to take to serve the LGBT senior community with dignity and parity. We assist the provider in executing those protocols.”
